LOST AND FOUND

Lost- One art teacher. We were all very sorry to see Mrs. Rowe leave and would like to take this opportunity to thank her for all she has done.

Lost- One gym teacher. Mrs. Krause has left the gym and is now teaching 107.

Found- One gym teacher. Mr. Weiss has taken over the gym and done a very good job.

Found- His new teachers, they are: Miss. Sauer in 107, Miss. M'Ginnis in 110, Mrs. Levine in 104, Mrs. Cox in 109, Miss. Essler in 108, and Miss. Smith who is substituting in 108 kindergarten for a year.

On Nov. 28, Room 301 sponsored a paper sale. We offered a pension to the three rooms that brought the most papers. The three rooms that won were 102, 204, and 303. All together we made $182.35. It was a great success.

Principal's Message

Even though it is difficult to realize, the years of your elementary school life have come to an end, and you now face an entirely new environment, as well as the varied and responsibilities of approaching adult life. We of the Gale Faculty have mixed emotions at your going, for while we are sad at the thought of losing so many good friends, we are at the same time happy because you have reached the first goal successfully. This graduation, the first, I hope, of many, comes in a very troubled time. Our deepest and sincere wish, is that you may continue and complete your education in peace, with honor, and with every bit of success that you deserve. Good luck to you, whatever fate may have in store for you. It was pleasant knowing you.

Francis T. Baylan

During the past semester Gale has seen one of the most unusual shows ever sponsored by the 8a class. This was the Midget Show. We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for the great response to this show.

During Oct. the Howard Businessmen's Association called on Gale for some Halloween posters. There were about 15 done. There were also about 15 very surprised people when we were told that there were going to be prizes awarded. There were first, second and third prizes. These went to Ronald Eillich, Joyce Sigeland, Pat Gordon and Diane Shaw. Thanks comes from all of us to the Howard Businessmen's Association.

Gale received another treat this year this was the thirty piece orchestra under the direction of Mr. Shamiro. This orchestra was sent to us by the Board of Education. Gale would gladly welcome this again.

Clay the magic man was back at Gale again this year. He did many new tricks that kept everyone from the kindergarten class to the 8a class amazed. We hope Clay will find time to come back to Gale again next year.

THE INSIDE STORY

100 Open House

The Planetarium

Room 304 went to the planetarium. We heard a lecture on the planets and the stars, about Mars, Saturn, and Jupiter. We also looked about the Big and the Little Dipper and the North Star. After the lecture we went to Field Museum. We saw many interesting exhibits about Sped, Arctar, and the Iroquois Indians. The Iroquois Indians were the most civilized Indians. Then after we toured the Field Museum we came back to school.

Our Sweet Potatoes

The children brought sweet potatoes to school. They put them in water and then in a dark closet. Soon stems grew on them. The children watered them with lukewarm. Then they used the plastic bags the seedlings. They grew free day to day. Watching them grow, the children learned that plants can be fed from food stored in their roots.

Room 306

Open House in 302

For open house our room had our spelling papers, arithmetic papers, and our reading cards on the wall. On our desks we had our arithmetic papers, Weekly Readers, spelling papers, and one reading unit. Our room certainly looked full.

Bethann Engstrom
302-44

The U.S.

Since room 301 was studying the United Nations, we decided to make a mural representing the nations of the U. S. Three girls, Roxanna Neilson, Patricia Gordon, and Evelyn Smith worked on the mural. The girls did a wonderful job.

Judy Byer
301-8A

A teacher never forgets a pupil who remembers.

Room 305

100- Fifteen of 107 artists painted a beautiful Thanksgiving mural. All the pupils are very proud of their mural.

100- Room 100 had a Halloween party. All the children came in costume. They sang songs and played games. Everyone agreed that they had a wonderful time.

100- Room 100 has an honor roll for all the pupils who have gotten 90-100 in department. The child ran who are on the honor roll are: Marie W, Robert F, Susan W, Virginia T, Michael E, Johannes V, James W, Todd E, Werry J, Theodore P, Michael L, and Susan P.

100- Mrs. Kilroy did sketches of each child in her room. They are very life like models of the children.

100- Room 100 went on a trip to the Field Museum. They enjoyed their trip and learned many new things.

100 also has an exceptional collection of shells.

100-307 had a wonderful time making different objects of clay and then painting them with temper paints.

Christmas Play

Room 101 is planning a Christmas play called "The Merry Christmas Elf". It will be directed by Mrs. Brown. We will present it on Dec. 20. Almost all the M's are in the play.

Our Project

Room 104 is planning to make a miniature ice skating pond. There will be people skating on benches, people skating, rabbits and evergreen trees. All of this will be made out of clay. The figures will be painted with temper paints. When we are finished I am sure that it will be very pretty.

Sale Brown
104-42

Never put off today what you can do tomorrow.

Room 303

Students in room 303 have been studying about the Bible. They have been doing Bible stories and have been making some fine projects such as sheet puppets, posters, and handwork articles pertaining to their studies.

Nancy Shelton
303-79

Bill Marshall

Since we are having departmental again this semester we found the need for bill marshalls. Room 301 held an election for marshall captain and Judy Byer was elected. Each week we rotated the marshalls. After everyone in the room had a turn, the six people who had been the best were chosen to be in the hall departmentally.

Graduates Farewell Suberta Perlin

The day of graduation will soon be here,
A day from our memories that will never disappear.
Eight years of studies have been done,
Which, now as we look back,
were not work but fun.
11
We are grateful to our teachers who have been patient thru the years.
But, as the day of graduation nears
It is hard to say good-by,
Pat, because we must, we shall try.
So good-by to Gale, Good-by.
We the graduates of '51'
would like to say thanks to the faculty of Gale School for all they have done for us the past eight years.

SIDE SPLITTERS

Teacher—
Why can you talk as fast as a turtle? Johnny answered with a one-word word.

PUPIL—That I don't think I deserve quite a zero
on this paper.
TEACHER—Neither do
I, but it's the lowest mark I can give you.

A tutor who tested the flute
Tried to teach two tuteurs to test,
Wield the two to the tutor,
Is it harder to test, or
To tutor two tuteurs to test?

Underneath this pile of stones
Lies what's left of Sally Jones.
Her name was Krigger; it was not Jones,
But Jones was used to rhyme with stones.

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

Teacher—"Now, Tommy, tell us where elephants are from."
Tommy—"Elephants are from very large animals they hardly ever get lost."

Teacher—"Johnny, I'm ashamed of you.
When I was as old as you, I could read all the presidents names off in order without hesitation."

Johnny—"Yeah, but there were only three at time of the war."

Teacher—"How many fingers have you?"

Johnny's "Ten."

Teacher—"Well, if you were sleeping, what would you have then?"

Johnny: "No music lessons."

science Teacher—"What student can name two shooting stars?"
Student—"My finger and my nose."
The little girls in their way home from Sunday School were enjoying discussing the poem.

"Do you believe there is a Devil?"
asked one.
"No!" said the other promptly. "It's like Santa Claus; it's your father."

Teacher—"William, I wish you'd stop reaching for things at the table."
Kevin—"You got a tongue?"

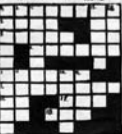

Sam—"Yes, Ma, but my nose's longer."

Teacher—"What's the meaning of Johnny's eye?"
Teacher—"It's a very long eye."

Teacher—"What's the meaning of Johnny's eye?"
Teacher—"It's a very long eye."

Teacher—"What's the meaning of

CLIFFEN AND BOB

Cliffen was a little egg
Who wanted to go to school,
Now all the eggs 'eysd Cliffen
Thought to see a fool.

One day he heard them talking,
Saying he was a fool,
Now Cliffen didn't like that and challenged one to duel.

The "big egg" soon came on,
Fought Tom against poor little Cliff,
Fought Tom was a great big bruiser,
Thought to finish him with one "stiff".

The fight had just then started,
"Go guard" the great crowd roared,
Now the highest society,
Was not a one-bit lord.

Though Tom was going on and on,
He had a stinging sword,
Then there was a big "bang-bang"
and the crowd all murmured "oak".

Though Tom was going down and down,
His sword began to bend,
But Cliffen was a real "chump"
He fought until the end.

MY FAVORITE BUY

Every Friday my friend and I get at a movie show. We both love the same kind of movie projector.

One Friday we go to one boy's house and the next week we go to another boy's house.
The selection is up and the price of popcorn is included.

While one projector is running the other is watching the film. We also enjoy interesting cartoons and other films.

Sports Reel

The Champion

Today was the big day for the Lions and Tigers, both teams had won ten games, but the Tigers had two losses. The Lions will kick off, the Tigers quarter-back, Smith, took the ball on the 14 yard line. He eluded three tacklers and then was measured on the 50 yard line, First down 10 yards to go, and Smith went back to pass. A long pass sailed through the air and it was completed on the Lions 54 yard line. The receiver ran over for a touchdown. The extra point was good, and the Tigers led 7 to 0 at the quarter, but the Lions tied them before the half ended. Then the Lions scored again, and closed the conversation. Then the Tigers kicked a field goal. Then Jones kicked another field goal, with one minute left to play. Then on the kick-off the Lion Turner was tackled behind his own goal for a safety, and the Tigers won 15 to 15.

The Team I Like

The team I like is the Chicago Bears. I like them for many reasons. Some of them are the great tradition which goes with the Bears; the color which a Bear team always has and the great players which the Bear's always have. Some of the Bear players which I like are Lujack, Compans, Sunnelager, Duljanec, Kavenough, Connor, Barwegen, and Turner. The Bears always have a good team, and I will always like them.

The Best Game

This game was between SOI and All Stars. The game was very tense. The final score of the boys game was 25 to 20. It was a great victory for SOI. Then the real part came for the SOI girls. The score was tied at the end of the game. Then they continued to play off the tie, and lost by 7 points. Both teams deserved credit for the good sportsmanlike play and team work.

WILLEY BALL

The SOI team fought it out through the Willey ball tournament, winning nine straight games and the title. The undefeated champs played top ball in every game.

Team SOI finished second, and Team SOI giving room for rough games. The way was third, Team SOI didn't win a game because lack of experience. Every team tried its best and played its hardest.
